Navigating the 66 books of the Bible can be intimidating! There are tabs that you can purchase to put on the different books to make it easier to find specific places in the Bible. It's also good to help kids know the 66 books of the Bible. In order to find some songs for helping children memorize the books of the Bible, you can search 66 Books of the Bible on YouTube or books of the Bible song on iTunes. There is a large amount of resources on just these 2 media venues.

Memorizing Bible verses is a way to equip kids for life. Psalm 119:11 says, "I have hidden your word in my heart so that I won't sin against you." These are great verses for kids to memorize:

2nd Grade Video Scripts - Invitation to the Bible

There is nothing more cool than watching your child pick up a great book and read on their own. This year, in second grade, you are going to get to watch that happen time after time. You also know you're a parent of a second grader when you tell your kids you are helping them with homework when they read Magic Tree House books, but in reality you just love the stories hidden in the pages. At school, your child's second grade teacher is going to be focused on helping them become a great reader. No matter what level your child is reading at, I promise that this year they are going to get better at it. Because your child is learning how to be an independent reader, we want to invite you to engage in this year's Family Experience called "Invitation to the Bible."

Why offer an invitation to the Bible? That's a great question! We believe that the Bible is for their everyday life and not just for church. The Bible is personal, and it is meant to fuel a personal faith. We know, as adults, how hard it can be to make time to engage the Bible in our personal lives. Have no fear! This year will be a learning experience for everyone in the family. We are hoping to help your child make the Bible a part of his or her everyday life. Let's start early. Let's invite them to see the wonder and mystery contained in the greatest story ever told...the story of God found in the pages of the Bible.

Your first step will revolve around three

Kick-starter discussions that will build a foundation for this year's Family Experience Ceremony, and we will give you scripture and activities to help you lay these foundations in intimate conversations with your child. These conversations will bring your child closer to God and you.

These Kick-starters are expounded upon in our Kick-starter Guide. They include what it means for the Bible to be personal for them, how it will prepare them for life, and how they can trust its truth. After walking through the Kick-starters, you are now ready to implement this year's Family Experience Ceremony. You will find step-by-step instruction in our Parent Planning Guide. We are going to ask you to present your child

The Bible is very Story is powerful. The stories found in the Bible are not only powerful they're true.

with a new Bible! This Bible will be one they will cherish for the rest of their life. What Bible should you choose? No fear. We have given you a guide to help you know the right version to get for them. We are going to ask you to have significant people in your family and church highlight and sign their favorite verse or verses in this new Bible, and we will also help you write a short letter to your child in the front of the Bible.

Our desire is that your young one will learn to cherish the Word of God, and we pray it always reminds them to make it apart of their daily life!
